

Sept. 23. 1864.

Dear Brother Wilcox,

Your
package of the 20th came to hand yesterday.

Br. Rowell & Clara, Mr.
& Mrs. Rogers & Sarah, Mr.
The Byde & family, & Eddie Lanmon left by the Annie, I think.

Do you know what
Mr. Brigham teaches at Pimahaon?

Mrs. Alexander enjoys her duties here. If the scholars behave
well, it will be very pleasant for them

all.

The prices of goods
are constantly rising in the States, & as a consequence, they must continue to rise here. And if the States are obliged to give more for cloth & other imported
articles, will they not think that they must receive more
for their services?
It seems to me that this is unavoidable.
Our good brother & sister

Foobes must be greatly afflicted on account of the death of their son.
And their other 2 sons are in the army, I think. I'm Lord preserve their lives.

Those rebel sharp-
shooters have killed a great many of the Federal officers. They get rifles from England at, I believe, $1500
a piece, superior to any manufactured in the states. A rebel sharpshooter
ascended a tree

with one of those rifles; but he had scarcely completed his arrangements before he was shot dead by a Federal sharpshooter. His rifle was taken.
Love to you all.

Yours,

J. Dale.
